

Knowledge Test

By Rachel Givens

Across:

- After basic back-holding and release techniques are taught, Larry Wise recommends students graduate to shooting with this piece of equipment.
- In Larry Wise's outline of coaching techniques, his recommended second objective involves the placement of this body part.
- The last name of the president of Shoot Like a Girl.
- This is Mission's latest model sold in the MXB line, offered in the Basic, Hunter or Pro package.
- This 2017 flagship bow from Moxie got its name to honor the U.S. armed forces.
- This term defines how a bowyer directs the bend of a bow's limbs as well as their stiffness.
- This bow, available in 31 and 35 inch axle-to-axle length configurations, is PSE's flagship hunting bow for 2017.
- This crossbow case from October Mountain Products is fleece-lined, features an arrow compartment that will take arrows up to 24 inches in length and features an over-the-shoulder strap.
- In 2017, Bear released this bow specifically designed for women. It is lightweight and fast.
- This rest from HHA Sports is named for a Roman term meaning "courage and valor."
- Larry Wise recommends you spend this many minutes on any particular coaching lesson in order to maximize the lessons taught while minimizing the time spent on them.
- The target manufacturer that produces the Bionic Bear and Bionic Buck III.
- "Explora Caza Con Arco" is a Spanish-speaking version of the Explore _____ program from the ATA.

Answer key appears next issue.

The solution for the May Crossword appears on the contents page of this issue.

Down:

- This TenPoint product is a compact, retractable rope cocker that automatically retracts into a grip; the grips collapse into a portable unit.
- This target, named for a dinosaur, was one of the first offerings made by Rinehart.
- The manufacturer of the Cross-Tec scope and Dual-Color open dot sight for crossbows.
- The last name of the owner of THS Sporting Goods.
- The target manufacturer that recently acquired R&W Targets.
- This height is the distance between a bow string and the deepest part of its grip.
- The "6" model of this Bowtech series, new for 2017, combines Overdrive Binary cams and Powershift technology.
- This type of string, proficient in speed but not durability, is created with as few as six or eight strands, then double served.
- Katie Haymes suggests that in order to cater to parents who have to wait in a pro shop for their children to take lessons, the most important facet of waiting facilities is a clean one of these.
- The last name of the store manager of THS Sporting Goods.
- This 2017 flagship offering from Elite is noticeably long, longer than any other bow in the Barnum reviews.